They are built of the Best Material that can had in the East, as all my stock is selected by a Special Agent, and by that means I am enabled to do the Good Work that I do. I wish also to call attention to the fine carriages that I am turning out.

Beg pardon, I must relate a little incident that occurred a few days ago. One of my HIGHLY PINISHED CARRIAGES was standing near the Drinking Pountain on King Street, when a gentleman and lady were passing by and all at once the horse took fright and nearly became unmanageable; but the driver got the animal quieted down, and he came in with the same weight he went out with, and saved stakes. But come to investigate the matter, the horse took CHEE & ACHAT, PROPRIETORS, fright from seeing his shadow in MY HIGHLY FIN-ISHED CARRIAGE that was standing near the Fountain -I also am finishing up some very nice FAMI-LY CARRIAGES AND SOME TOP PHE-TONS, which I shall soon have ready for sale. SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1880.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE FROM KOHALA Was attended with such demonstrations of enthusiastic good will and loyalty that must make the occasion forever memorable in the hearts of both Chief and People. The ball at Kaiopihi was a large reunion of ladies and gentlemen, foreign and native, who manifested in their gaiety and exuberance of good spirits, their pleasure at the presence of their Ruler, to which he responded by participating freely in the joyousness of the occasion. A triumphal arch was erected bearing the inscription: "Aloha nui i ka Moi Kalakaua."-Our Love to King Kalakaua.

But when the King took leave on the evening of Tuesday the 7th inst., and sailed away on board the Likelike from Mahukona, then the Kohalans, by their enthusiastic display of regard, seemed anxious to prove how warmly they carried their Sovereign in their hearts. With band and banners, lighted up by flaming torches on the bill sides, and along the highway a numerous cortege of natives and foreigners, accompanied the King to the water side. A sweet chorus of praise and aloha from a dozen well-trained young Hawaiian voices, blended with the kindly notes of farewell; and when His Majesty had stepped on board the barge in waiting, scores of stalwart Hawaiians were hustling forward for the privilege of launching the royal boat; and when afloat, and urged with strong willing hands and loving words of accord, and the King had bid adieu to the shore; yet his Hawaiian people throng into the sea, and bearing aloft more than a hundred torches, -and in order and in line,they wade in and stem with loving breasts the charging surf; a bold leader with one strong buffeting arm, over-tops the surf crests that would quench his torch of love, held above the breaking spray, and he leads onward a train of flashing loyal flame, that with beacons on the hill tops, and swarming lights along the shore, light up the sea, and lighten a Chief's beart with a noble farewell from a loving People. Aloha Kohala! Aloha ino!!

THE KING IN HILO. His Majesty arrived at Hilo, landing on the morning of the 8th inst., and became the guest of Capt. Thos. Spencer. The King visited various plantations and envicinity. On the 10th inst., His Majesty addressed the people in the Court House referring to his purposes of travel, in order to promote the wellare of his Kingdom. The King and suite embarked on board three boats, left Hilo on the morning of the 13th, and proceeded to Pepeikou to visit the plantation of our eminent Chinese merchant Mr. Afong, who tendered to the royal party a princely hospitality, by providing riding excursions, sumptuous fare, and a great variety of entertainments. The order and appearance of this flourishing and well-regulated plantation calls for high praise the sanitary condition of laborers is well provided for, in good fare and ample cleanly lodgings, and the cheerfulness and alacrity of men at work gave His Majesty a high opinion of the excellent management at Pepeikou. The royal party left the Afong plantation on the morning of the 15th to meet a social engagement with Dr. Wetmore the same evening, would leave Hilo on Thursday per Likelike. make short calls en route, and expect to return to the Capital tomorrow, Sunday morning early.

CRICKET .- A new club to be called the Pacific C. C. has been formed. This is in some respects a "split" from the Honolulu Club, but as the rivalry of clubs is always found to be the best stimulus to careful practice of Cricket, the split is not to be deplored. Including two clubs amongst the juvenile part of the population, this makes five Cricket Clubs in active operation in Honolulu; a proof that the game is attractive in itself, and that a little newspaper patronage does good to any cause.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENTS .- On Thursday next the 28rd inst., an entertainment will be given by the pupils of Iolani College (the Bishop's School,) to which the public as well as the parents and immediate friends of the boys are invited. The proceedings are to comence at 3 P.M. The programme include recitations and music. For the musical part of the entertainment the boys have been making great preparation, under the care of their master Mr. Wray Taylor. They hope to send their friends, and whoever pays them the compliment of being present away delighted. The Kanaina Estate is to pass under the Rez vs Kilinahe, larceny 3d degree, verdict hammer to-day. There are one or two peculiarities in this sale as advertised that must have attracted notice. The lot of land in Palace Walk is to be put up as a separate lot from the buildings on it, and the latter are to be sold "to be removed within—days." Unless the Administrator has the consent of all interested to this arrangement, he takes an unwise responsibility for who can say beforehand that this special method of sale may not damage the interests of the Estate. What in any case is the object of the separate sale? These lots are advertised to be sold "on the premises" whilst the order of Court authorizing the sale expressly fixes the front door of Aliiolani Hale for that purpose.

that any estimate we might give could only suit a special case. We hear of one recently constructed for coal traffic, the buckets or cars of which carried 500 lbs each, some ten or twelve of them being always on the rope together when work was going on. This, without engine, cost at the rate of about $2500 per mile.

A concert was given last evening, in the Lyceum, by the Amateur Musical Society, when a varied and very pleasing programme of solos, duets, and choruses was presented. The concerted music was accurately sung, but with some timidity, which showed itself on a lack of animation. The society is not strong in tenors, and is weak in bass voices. The ladies outnumber the other sex in the proportion of five to three The gems of the evening were the "Page Song" from Gli Ugonoti, and the song "La Sevila," both soprano songs. The Hall was well filled, but the audience would, no doubt, have been larger had it not been confined to members of the society and their friends.

SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S PRO-CATHEDRAL .-The hymne selected for the service tomorrow at St. Andrew's are : Matins 36, 350, & 218 ; Even Song, 40, 38, & 389. On Christmas Day there will be a full choral service at 7.30 A.M., with processional and recessional hymns. At the Eleven o'clock service the Processional will be the hymn, "While Shepberds watched their flocks by night." The proper psalms for the day will be sung to Anglican chants, and the To Deum to music expressly composed for the occasion by Mr. Wray Taylor. Mr. Taylor has also composed the Anthem "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem." The hymn before the sermon will be " Hark ! the Herald Angels sing !" and that atter the sermon, "O come all ye Faithful," (adeste fideles.) The Bishop of Honolulu will be the preacher. The musical part of this service will be repeated on the Sunday following. Y. M. C. A .- The usual monthly meeting of the Young Man's Christian Association, was held in the Lyceum, on Thursday evening, Dr. Whitney in the chair. There was a thin meeting-18 in all. It was expected that Mr. S. B. Dole, would read an essay, at this meeting, but the state of his health disabled him from attending. The evening was mainly occupied with an animated discussion of various points of the Chinese question, and of the duties of the association, and of Hawaiian Christian Society, generally towards the Chinese. The Rev. A. O. Forbes, Rev. A. Frear, and Dr. Damon, the chairman and the secretary (Mr. Kinney), took the principal part in the conversation. An abstract of the discussion, within the limit of space available for it, would not do justice to the speakers. It is matter for regret, that what they had to say, did not fall on the ears of a larger audience. The subjects they had in hand are amongst the most important of the day for this community. Mr Lees reported for the prayer-meeting and prison committees. The latter committee felt that though they were welcome to the prisoners, and that the services held by Dr. Damon was looked forward to, the result of their labors, on the future career of prisoners after leaving gaol was discouragingly small.

THE THEATRE.-The California Theatre Company still continue to play to large audiences at the Royal Hawaiian Theatre, and they well deserve the patronage extended to them, as each member of the company seemingly uses the best efforts to please. "Checkmate" was reproduced on last Saturday evening in conjunction with the absurdity, "The Omnibus." As usual, Mr. Henry Wilson successfully concealed his identity by the truly characteristic dressing; and Miss Wilkes, Mr. Wells, Mr. Crosbie, and Miss Long won applause by their good acting, although the comedy did not offer much scope for their abilities. Of the farce, all that will be said is, that we hope to not look upon its like again-at least not performed by this company. Babes in the Wood " was produced on Wednesday evening, the 15th instant, and to a large audience. pranks, tricks, and natural humor of two " off uns, and kept the audience in a continual roar of laughter. Miss Allen's acting as Lady Macassar was more spirited than in former plays, and this fact, sided by her good singing, won her deserved applause. Smith (Miss Wilkes), and Brown (Mr. Wells), the two "bad men," paradoxically, were good, only Smitu's earrings looked a little womanish. Puff's localisms were palpable "hits," and were well appreciated. Mr. Wilson's Sir Rowland, again reflected credit on his abilities as a delineator of character, his portraiture of the " bad uncle " causing involuntary uprisings of the hirsute head covering n youthful members of the audience. The play is thoroughly enjoyable from beginning to end, and well deserves a run. To-night, and again Monday night, "The Babes" will be presented

WIRE TRAMWAYS.

The transport of cane from the field to the mill is, on some of our plantations, a troublesome and expensive process. Sites suitable for the cultivation of sugarcane and for mill purposes cannot always be found in close proximity to one another-indeed such proximity is the exception rather than the rule. Where the distance over which cane has to be carried is considerable, and the intervening country is broken in character, a common expedient is to construct water-races and fluming in which the cane is floated down to the mill. In those cases in which the supply of water thus brought down by the flumes is required as a motive power or for irrigation purposes in the immediate neighborhood of the mill, it is probable that this method may prove an economical one. At Onomea, for instance where the cane is carried, no less than five miles in this manner, the water which transports the cane subsequently yields the power to grind it. In places where the race would not be wanted except for its use in bringing cane forward to the mill it must, unless the nature of the country be very favorable, prove an expensive part of the sugar growers' plant. In such cases there is little doubt that the wire tram ways, now coming so much into vogue in other countries for this and similar purposes, would prove much less expensive, both in the matter of first cost and in that of maintenance.

Chambers' Journal for September last contains an article on the subject of wire tramways, in which occur the following remarks :- " The carriage of field and farm produce offers another opening for the use of wire tramways. In Mau-ritius they are employed to convey sugarcane the cases and tass judgement. Deputy Attorney from the fields where it grows to the sugar-mills for crushing. In Jamaica the wires bring down. at an incline of one to three, cane that grows near hill-tops to mills situated in the valleys beneath. In Martinique and St. Kitte the same plan is adopted, delivering the cane in uniform quantities on the carriers, and in some instances carrying the plucked canes right over another field in which sugar is growing. In many countries wire tramways are employed for carrying the crops from large beetroot farms to a railway or port of shipment. In mining countries, wire commission. As the case now stands these prisoners tramways are found very advantageous in conveying minerals and ores from mines situated high up the slopes of mountains down to a valley, river, or sea-port; and in conveying workmen and stores of all kinds in the reverse direction Cne such line is at Lebu, in Chile, where the Somorrostro Iron Ore Mines, near Bilbas, in Spain. A third is at Manaino, in British Columbia; coal is carried down from a considerable elevation on a mountain side to a sea-port, a distance of over three miles, some of the posts that support the wire being no less than 80 feet bigh. At the Mayo Salt Mines, in the Punjab, is a wire tramway ten miles in length which conveys salt not only down to but across the wide river Jhelum. For the benefit of those who have never seen a may prove useful. The use of an endless wirerope as a means of drawing a train of cars is almost as old as the railroad itself. In what technically known as a wire tramway, the rope not only draws the trucks or cars, but serves as the track itself. The ropes are suspended upon poles in the manner used for telegraph wires. with the necessary exception that the poles and their projecting arms are of great strength. Each arm carries a pulley over which the rope runs. The load hangs below the wire, but clips the rope from above, as in all other cases in which wire ropes are used for traction. This is accomplished by means of a sharp curve or crook in the iron bar by which the car is suspended. These wire tramways are carried over hills and valleys, forming suspension bridges over the latter. They are usually worked, like the wire cables used on some of the street railroads in San Francisco and elsewhere, by a stationary engine, the return rope being also made available for traffic. In exceptional cases where the course of the tramway is wholly down hill, the rope can be worked by gravitation alone. Various ingenious contrivances for connecting and disconnecting the cars at start and arrival have been patented. Loaded cars can follow one another at short intervals, care being taken to regulate the diameter, and consequen strength, of the cable to the work required of it. The first cost of such tramways varies so greatly with the character of the work required of them, that any estimate we might give could only suit a special case. Court News-An Important Question.

In the police court at Lahaina on Monday, he 18tht inst., four South Sea Islanders were before the police justice for desertion of service of Mr. Turton Mr. J. W. Kalus appeared for the defense, and set up that Mr. Turton had no right to prosecute, as these men were not in his employ, but were employed by the Board of Immigration. Attorney E. Preston appeared as counsel for Mr. Turton, and seeing that the case was lame as to the right of Mr. Turton as master, to prosecute for desertion of service to him as master, requested the case discharged. Immediately, however, Mr. Preston appeared in a new suit against the four South Sea Islanders, as Deputy Attorney General, and entered a complaint against them for desertion of service from the Board of Immigration, whose agent Mr Turton was. The defense asked for and obtained an adjournment until the 14th. The case came on at that date, and was again adjourned until Monday, the 20th inst., the object being to send for Mr. Bingham, and have him to explain and interpret for them. The defense set up that these South Sea Islanders were kidnapped, and did not understand when they left their homes, that they were to work ; and, in fact, did not know where they were going or what they had to do; that Captain Wallace seduced them aboard the "Nettie Merrill," and some (not all) signed papers they did not know the purport of; that now they see they were enticed away as slaves, and object to being such, and appeal to the courts of the Kingdom for release from contracts they did not understand The consequences of this suit were, that Mr. Turton had to stop grinding, the South Sea Islanders being the mill gang, who, on the commencement of this suit desarted in a body J. W. Kalua is blamed, of course, for bringing the suit, but he says that he knew nothing of it until Monday last; that the Hawaiians here worked upon these South Sea Islanders to appeal to the courts, and that he, as a lawyer, was asked to appear for their defense. This is an important question, and affects every employer of these people.. D. MAMAKI CASE.

The most important case before the court this term was the case of D. Mamaki, Tax Collector for the district of Lahaina, for the year 1879, charged with embezzlement of government moneys. There are four indictments against him, and twenty more of the same kind can be brought, one of which, of three counts, was tried yesterday before a native jury, who brought in a verdict of " not guilty " The prosecution called for Gov. Dominis, who testified that he knew the prisoner, that he was Collector for 1879, and knew his handwriting. Hon. Aholo testified that the books of Mamaki were brought to him by the prisoner, and the amount of cash handed over was the same as stated on the last page of the books; that he did not examine the books to see if any erasures who seemed to thoroughly enjoy the evening's per- | had been made, or if the footings were correct. The formance. Miss Eliza Long and Mr. Crosbie, as books came in very late, and were immediately sent by him to Honolulu, to the Finance office. F. H. Hayselden testified that he was Assessor for the district of Lahaina, for 1880, and had in his possession the collection book of 1879, to guide him in his assessment of this year; that he found the book on the collection side full of erasures, the footings all altered. and the balances out by a considerable amount; that, while assessing, he came across men who said they paid their taxes last year, but who were entered by Mamaki, in his own handwriting, as not having paid, but who, on the contrary, were dead, or had left the district. Three witnesses were called for the prosecution, Aoni, (Pake), Kana and Pais, all of whom swore to having paid their taxes into the hands of Mamaki and his deputy, and exhibited their receipts for the same, signed by Mamaki. The defense called no witnesses, not even the prisoner, and the only plea of the lawyer, J. W. Kalus, was, that the books, having been accepted by the government, when sworn to, it was now too late to make a complaint against the prisoner, that the government should make his bondsmen pay. This plea satisfied the jury, who were mostly personal friends of the prisoner, but it did not satisfy Justice McCully, who told the jury that the plea was no plea at all, and that they were not to consider it as such : that J. W. Kalua knew better when he made such a plea, and that it was simply hilabila los (shameful) to set up such a defense. The second indictment against Mamaki will be brought up this Wednesday morning, when the attorney will ask, and expects to obtain, a change of venue, and the other indistments will be tried in Honolulu at the next January term. POLICE COURT OF MAKAWAO,

> A great deal of trouble is to be expected on account of Judge Havekost, of Makawao, not having had his commission as police justice last year. Four cases of larceny brought before him on the 16th of July last all pleaded guilty, and were sentenced by him to imprisonment and fine. While in Wailuku, on their way to prison, they were induced by native lawyers to appeal their cases, which they did, and the trial was held in Lahaina, on the 6th inst., before the Circuit Court, Judge McCully presiding, assisted by Judge Fornander. The defense was that Judge the cases and pass judgement. Deputy Attorney-General Preston saw the point, and entered a nolle pros. The men have since been re-arrested and tried before the Lahaina police judge, who let one of them off, and convicted the other three, who have since appealed their cases before the Circuit Court, now sitting. This is an important case, as it affects some half-a-dozen persons, now in jail at Honolulu. who were sent there by the decisions of the same Judge Havekost, while serving as judge, without a can be taken out of the " Hotel de Fyfe " at any time on a writ of habeas corpus.

A great many of the cases before the Circuit Court at this term were brougth by the energetic Deputy Sheriff of Makawao, Mr. Walsh, who has gained suspended wire spans no less a sweep than seven convictions in nearly all his cases, most of which hundred and thirty feet. Another is at the were for selling spirits without license, furnishing to natives, and having onlym in possession. THE SUGAR INTEREST ON MALL is brisk. Waikapu, Wailuku, Hamaku: pok), Haiku, and Baldwin's mills are all grinding. The large mill at Spreckelsville is fast approaching completion. This mill is expected to take off at least shirty tons in twenty-four hours, but two more mills of like capacity will be erected within the next ten months. in order to take off the estimated yield of 10,000 wire tramway, some description of the invention | tons of sugar from the 2.700 acres now planted at Spreckelsville, of which one thousand eight hundred acres are owned and planted by Mr Spreckels, and nine hundred acres by outside planters. Mr. McCoppin has gone to the coast to arrange for the erection of these two new mills. The mill about to be completed will commence grinding in February, it is expected, and will take off a vield of four hundred and fifty sores, that will then be ripe. Some idea of the size of this mill can be imagined when it is said that the very large top of the condenser is seventy-five feet from the ground. Work will soon be commenced on this large plantation in laying the iron tracks through the cane fields for bringing the cane to the mill. The gauge will be about three feet, and the cars will be drawn by traction engines.

The Hamakuapoko plantation is about to try the plan of hauling their cane by steam power, and has sent for a traction engine. More will be employed if this is a success.

A new government school-house is being built at Makawao, and the Board of Education have sent to the coast for a competent teacher for the same.

Lahaina has been very lively during the past two weeks; both native and foreign jurors and the numerous parties to the suits pending, have brought fully one hundred and fifty more people into Labaina at this time. Accommodations are very scarce for foreigners, and the fare is not as good as it might

The reverend Mr. Grosser held divine service in Lahaina on Sunday last, and the Church of the Holy Innocents was crowded with strangers, mostly foreigners attending court here.
